PROSPECTS.

The prevalence of the yellow fever in various parts of the State last fall, prevented opening at the usual time in September, but it is now thought that the lateness of openi & will not materially and permaneutly injure the prospects of the College.

There was no Fever in Clinton; there never has been any here. The place maintains its reputation for unsurpassed healthfulness.

Since the holidays the School has been rapidly filling up. NOW IS THE TIME TO ENTER TO SECURE THE BENEFITS OF THE SPRING AND SUMMER SESSION. The greatest enthusiasm prevails among both students and teachers, and the best work is being done that was ever accomplished in the College.
